

MEDICINAL CHEMISTS – CAMBRIDGE, UK

Reference: CS0719

Looking for the chance to use your scientific knowledge, to work alongside experienced researchers and contribute to the discovery of new treatments for patients? Domainex currently has opportunities for talented laboratory-based synthetic and medicinal chemists to join our research team. We're an expanding contract research organisation providing fully integrated, drug discovery services to the scientific community. Our multi-disciplinary team works in a highly collaborative manner with our clients - bringing together talent, creativity and expertise to convert ideas and discoveries into new healthcare solutions. Each client project brings new scientific challenges and our scientists must be versatile, and responsive to the evolving needs as each project progresses.

Successful candidates will have:

- a Ph.D. in organic or medicinal chemistry, or a B.Sc/M.Sc. degree in chemistry and may also have additional experience in industry
- a passion for synthetic chemistry and be able propose and execute synthetic routes efficiently
- problem-solving ability from combining personal knowledge of synthetic methods and techniques, with the desire to seek-out and apply novel and innovative solutions from the wider literature
- good communication skills; able to summarise and present scientific results and ideas to colleagues
- proven ability to work in a team, be proactive, and strive to deliver high quality

Domainex is an award-winning company located in Cambridge, one of the UK's leading hubs for bioscientific research and innovation, and offers a stimulating and rewarding research environment.
